

Distance learning - notgoingtouni - cmailpage

The modern alternative for school-leavers

10 UK universities now offer their courses by online learning through RDI

- * Places can be guaranteed before one of our 4 intakes: January, April, July and September
- * Choose when, how and where to learn
- * Same certificate as full-time on campus study - including graduation ceremony
- * Lower costs than traditional university study
- * A wide choice of university degrees and entry points to suit all experience and career aspirations
- * Tailored tutor support to suit your study style
- * Free membership of RDI's International Management Academy

The added benefits of online learning

Potential employers frequently recognise and value the commitment made by an individual studying by distance learning or online. Moreover studying a degree by distance learning or online allows the individual to continue to apply their new found knowledge in the work place and to further develop their career during their studies.

RDI provides you with professionally developed distance learning or online study materials. These have been developed to provide sequential learning with continual access to self assessment and task based progress measurement. On enrolment on an online degree course each individual is allocated a tutor for academic support who can be contacted by email and telephone. Each individual will also have access to a student support co-ordinator who will be there for administrative advice to make the learning experience successful and enjoyable.

>>Click here to browse all online courses offered