

Online education and online education courses from RDI

Online education - An alternative to on-campus study

Online education is a learning experience or environment that relies upon the Internet as the primary delivery mode of communication and presentation. RDI has developed a range of UK university diplomas, degrees and masters courses including MBAs that are delivered by means of online learning. However, these courses are fully accredited by UK universities - therefore graduates will receive exactly the same qualification as on-campus, full-time students from the university. This means online education offers the same outcomes as on-campus but with added flexibility and the opportunity to gain valuable work experience.

Qualifications are offered in...

- * Management
- * Business
- * HRM
- * Law
- * Public Sector
- * Psychology
- * IT & Telecomms
- * Finance & Accounting
- * Sales & Marketing
- * Service Excellence
- * Tourism & Hospitality
- * Supply Chain

RDI has brought together a complete portfolio of online UK university courses allowing progression onto other courses. This means students can move from HNC to HND, HND to degree and degree to Masters or MBA.

Potential employers recognise and value the commitment made by an individual studying by online learning. Studying a course online through RDI means you receive all the learning materials and tutor support you need to succeed.

On enrolment each individual is allocated an online tutor for academic support who can be contacted online or by email and telephone. Each individual will also have access to a student support co-ordinator who will be there for administrative advice to make the online learning experience successful and enjoyable.

>>Click here for more insights into online education